

Imagine a World...

By Diana Pastora Carson

2009

Imagine a world where everyone is special.
Imagine a world where respect for all exists.

Imagine people of all races, colors, and abilities valued and loved the same.
Imagine people of all appearances, beliefs, and backgrounds esteemed and honored each day.

Imagine a world where differences are like instruments, bringing unique sounds to a symphony.
Imagine humanity generously dancing and singing along in harmony.

Imagine seeing others' "differentness" with appreciation and with grace.
Imagine recognizing creation's ingenious way of designing the human race,
Where everyone is great as they are and no one is better or less;
Where every person has her place in making the world its best.

Imagine us making a difference in the lives of our fellow men
By letting them be who they are and supporting them how we can.

Imagine a world where everyone is special.
Imagine a world where respect for all exists.

Imagine this world and create it now.
Imagine it.
Be it.
